Rally Workshops

Date: Sunday November 5, 2023

Location: 3-2-1 Flying Dog Training & Event Center

RACH Overload 9:30 – 11:30am

Working on the Advanced, Excellent & Master signs that give you the most trouble. The ones you don't train at home because you don't like them, don't have the set up or aren't confident on how to teach your dog to do them properly. Maybe you're competing at RACH level and looking to clean a few things up to raise scores and earn those precious points. We'll cover a selection of signs from the three upper levels and run a course using the skills covered.

Skills And Drills 12:00 – 2:00pm

This workshop is for any one familiar with AKC Rally at any level who is looking to improve their dog's accuracy, teamwork, or stress level at trials. We will cover things like pre-run warm up at shows, practicing and proofing start line behaviors, working your dog with distractions and addressing dogs who 'stick' or move slowly on certain exercises. We'll also talk about how to effectively train Rally at home or in a class or match setting instead of just running courses in a "run through" format. The goal is to add to your toolbox to train for best trial performance.
